ADVERTISING IS HERALDED AS A BOON

ADDS ARE NATION'S TONIC PRESIDENT CLAIMS IT'S LIFE

Coolidge Addressing the American Association of Advertising Agencies at Washington, Declared Copy Has Built Up Present Scale of Wages He Tells Agency Heads—Farm Buyers Are Neglected In Selling Appeal.

With President Coolidge as the principal speaker Wednesday night, the American Association of Advertising Agencies wound up the first day of its annual discussion of the various problems confronting its members at Washington.

For Wednesday's session, 15 radio stations in the WEAF chain linked up to broadcast the president's address to listeners in all parts of the country.

H. H. Charles of New York, speaking, told his fellow advertising agents that "you have sold the city and almost forgotten the farm." Out of $1,391,000,000 spent for advertising in 1925 by American industry, he said, only $30,000,000 was devoted to advertising directly appealing to the farmer.

Buying power among the farmers is enormous, he asserted, but advertising agents and sales managers apparently have overlooked this 42 per cent of the population in their endeavors to "sell" the city dwellers.

He also suggested that more advertising attention to the farm woman's needs might lessen unrest by eliminating her feeling that she lacks conveniences in her home equivalent to those which advertising has brought to her men folks for facilitating their work.

President Coolidge feels that advertising has taken a commanding hand in bringing about "our American scale of wages," the maintenance of which he believes is paramount to the support of the home market.

The president held it would not be remiss to describe advertising as the "life trade" and as the foundation for "much of the success of the American industrial system."

"The pre-eminence of American industry, which has constantly brought about a reduction of costs," the president asserted, "has come very largely thru mass production. Mass production is only possible where there is mass demand. Mass demand has been created almost entirely thru the development of advertising.

"In former days goods were expected to sell themselves. Modern business could neither have been created nor could it be maintained on such a system. It is not enough that goods are made, a demand for them also must be made. It is on this foundation of enlarging production thru the demands created by advertising that much of the success of the American industrial system rests.

"It will occur at once that the conditions under which these results have been secured should be maintained. It is our high rate of wages which brings about the greatest distaribution of wealth that the world has ever seen and provides the enormous capacity for the consumption of all kinds of commodities which characterizes our country.

"If we proceed under our present system, there would appear to be little reason to doubt that we can continue to maintain all of these high standards in wages, in output, and in consumption indefinitely, and without home markets as a foundation, increase our foreign commerce.

"But nothing would appear to be plainer that that this all depends upon the maintenance of our American scale of wages, which is the main support of our home market.

"It is to be seen that advertising is not an economic waste. It ministers to the true development of trade."

Coolidge held honesty in business to be the only method of permanent success and declared "there can be no permanent basis for advertising except a representation of the exact truth."

"If our economical life," he continued, "is to be clean and wholesome and permanent in the last resort, it will be because those who are engaged in it are determined to make it so. The ultimate reformers of business must me the business men themselves. My conception of what advertising agencies want is a business world in which the standards are so high that it will only be necessary to tell the truth about it.

The country "in the main" has been and is prosperous, he asserted, "and perhaps the most creditable aspect of our present prosperity is that wages are high while profits have been moderate."

"From a recent fear of being exploited by large aggregations of wealth," he continued "the people of America are learning to make such great concerns their most faithful servants. This problem is not entirely solved yet. Here and there abuses occud, but business is gradually being taught that the only method of permanent success lies in an honest, faith ful, conscientious service to the public."

ARGENTINE EXPERT

The foreign judge of the single steer classes at the International Live Stock exposition in Chicago, November 27 to December 4, will be the distinguished South American live stock authority, George Gordon-Davis of Buenos Aires, Argentine. HAPPENINGS IN OUR STATE

Taken Direct From Wires By Correspondents of the United States Press Association.

Toledo — A Toledo business man whose identity may be revealed soon was questioned today in connection with the murder of Miss Lily Croy, 26, a school teacher, who was beaten to death Monday by a "slugger."

It has been determined the murder of Miss Croy was not connected with that 20 hours later of Mrs. Mary Ann Alden, whose body was found in her home Tuesday. She had been shot and beaten to death.

The suspect, police said, had never been questioned or considered in investigations of the three previous "slugger" murders which aroused the city a year ago.

Columbus—Search was made today for a 14 year old boy, alleged to have attacked Mrs. George Huff when he called at her home to solicit work. Mrs. Huff told police she was struck on the head by the boy when she refused to give him a job cleaning the furnace.

Columbus—Elimination of waste in industry was the theme for the opening session of "Management Week" at Ohio State university today. The conference was opened with a discussion of "improved utilization of industrial materials" by John A. Willard of Boston, consulting engineer. Carl Snyder chief statistician of the federal reserve bank, of New York, followed with a talk on the recent advance in economic science in the study of price trends.

Bridgeport —The strike of British coal miners is saving Ohio from a suspension in the industry and hte miners a possible reduction in wages.

During the spring and summer mine owners insisted that the workers accept a wage reduction to compete with the non-union fields and a large number of the mines were closed. Within recent weeks mining operations thruout this section have increased to a point that has not been equalled in two years. Every large company in eastern Ohio with the possible exception of two, now has practically all mines in operation.

WAR VETERAN FRED R. IMMELT IS SUMMONED

Fred R. Immelt died at Mt. Carmel hospital Columbus, Wednesday morning, October 27, after a three days' illness. His death was due to localized meningitis.

For a long time the young man had suffered from chronic catarrh and had been troubled with headache a great deal since last summer when, while in swimming, he struck his head on the bottom of the creek. His condition was so critical when removed to the hospital Saturday, that an operation was not advisable.

Mr. Immelt was born in Greenfield and was the son of John and Anna Darling Immelt. He came to this city seven years ago and was employed by the Circleville Lumber company.

The deceased was married to Miss Bessie Miller, in Kingston June 30, 1920. His wife, a daughter and son survive. They are Ruth Elizabeth and Fred Jr Of his immediate family six sisters are living.

The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late home, 954 South Pickaway street. Rev. S. W. Hiles will officiate. Interment will be in Mt. Pleasant cemetery at Kingston.

Mr. Immelt served in Company H, 166 regiment during the World war.

FARMERS TRUE ECONOMIZERS THEY HELD UP

Increase in Taxation and Saved Taxpayers Millions of Dollars.

In a statement made at Cleveland Tuesday, state legislative agent, C. A. Dyer, of the Ohio Farm bureau said the organization of farmers has saved Ohio taxpayers millions of dollars in the last six years.

The saving has resulted mostly, according to him, because of successful efforts of farm organizations in preventing legislation to invrease taxes.

He said farmers were instrumental in preventing the state tax commission from going ahead with an order in 1920 for a reappraisal of the whole of Ohio, and he contended that has saved more than $7,000,000 a year since.

The debt of the state originated with organized farmers, and he believes since 1921, it has saved $5,000,000 annually to taxpayers.

He asserted organized farmers defeated the proposed old age pension law, which, he said, would have cost the state $30,000,000 a year.

Organized farmers led the movement to do away with the state tax levy, and his figures showed that has saved approximately $3,500,000 a year to rural Ohio.

Dyer set forth his views in the Ohio Farmer.

He thinks organization is the salvation of the farmer.

"The trouble of farm folks of Ohio and the nation can and will be solved and the solution will not come by law or thru the action of political parties but will come from the farmers themselves, thru organization and then by intelligent group action."

"Outside of the specific savings listed, organization has brought other economies that are taken as a matter of course, that could be known but are never tabulated. The pure food laws or Ohio and the United States were brought about thru the activities of the grange, many years ago, and have protected the public and at the same time have put millions of dollars into the pockets of the farm producers.

"Rural free delivery of mail is another thing. That has saved the farmer thousands of dollars. Farm organizations were responsible for legislation of pure seed and feed. Organized farmers proposed the present state budget law, assisted in its preparation and enactment and will have to fight to keep it on the statute books during the coming legislative session."

HUNT LOBSTERS

Honolulu, Oct. 26.—With the opening of the lobster fishing season, outdoor enthusiasts are turning to a new form of recreation. Armed with a net and spear, Honolulu's week-ending population has turned to the coral reef for entertainment. The old Hawaiian method of fishing with torch and spear at night, is proving the most popular in the search for the crustaceans, but many cling to the boat and net style.

EXPENSIVE PRANK

Last night young men and boys celebrating Hallowe'en maliciously turned a number of large stones off the fence in front of the residence of Dr. Howard Jones in Park Place, North Court street, damaging shrubbery and trees on the lot.

It undoubtedly required crowbars for the celebrators to move the large stones and if they are apprehended they will be prosecuted.

PAUL M. HERBERT

Republican Candidate for State Senator Tenth Ohio District, Franklin and Pickaway Counties.

I am 36 years old, was born in Ohio and lived in Ohio all my life excepting the period of time spent in the military service overseas during the World war; graduated from Ohio State university, A. B. Degree, 1912, and took law at the State university. During the war I served with the 323d and 324th machine gun battalion at Camp Sherman and overseas. I spent seventeen months in foreign service.

During my two terms in the lower house, I took an active part in reducing the road assessments that so heavily burden the farmer. I, also, was the author of the measure establishing the Ohio system of criminal identification. That law has now been in effect three years and during that time has been instrumental in securing the apprehension of about twelve thousand nationally known criminals. I am informed that the following states have copied the Ohio system: South Dakota, Florida, Michigan, Missouri, Oklahoma, Vermont, Washington and Utah, and that other states noting the efficiency at little cost of the Ohio system, will adopt it during the legislative session this coming winter.

In view of the depleted condition of the state treasury, it has been suggested that a tax be levied on all property in Ohio. Such a tax would fall the heaviest upon the farmers and home owners. If elected to the senate, shall oppose any further taxation upon the farms or the homes for the reason that taxes already are too heavy upon these two foundations of our state and national existence.

STARVE OUT CUT WORMS

Recalling the losses from the ravages of the cut worm and sod web-worm in cornfields this Spring, T. H. Parks, extension entomologist at the Ohio State University, says now is the time to insure against loss next Spring. Pickaway county farmers will do well to heed the warning.

The pest winters in old sod fields below the surface of the soil. If, as is the custom in Ohio, the corn has been planted on an old sod there will be nothing green but the new corn in the field for the worms to feed on. They then break their long fast on corn seedlings, the food nearest at hand.

Where topography and the texture of the soil permit, plowing in November and December for the next corn crop is an easy method of control. They will starve in the Spring before the corn has had time to grow because the sod they would feed on is turned under.

There will be cutworms in sod that is a year old and over regardless of previous treatment. The soil must be plowed to plant corn and if it can be done at a time to farm around the pest the grower is sure to save time and money for poison and its application in the Spring.

OHIO COUNCIL OF CHURCHES ELECT OFFICERS

Columbus, Oct. 26.—(UP.)—Officers of the Ohio Council of Churches were re-elected at the closing session of the assembly here today.

The officers re-elected are: Myers Y. Cooper, Cincinnati, president; W. H. McMasters, Mt. Union College; Gardner Lattimer, Columbus and Homer C. Selby, Portsmouth, vice presidents; and King G. Thompson, Columbus, treasurer.

A new vice presidency was created by the assembly and Fred W. Ramsey, of Cleveland, elected.

The nominating committee will report the following names for membership on the executive committee: L. B. B. Williams, Mt. Vernon; Rev. T. L. Loew, Rev. I. E. Miller and Dr. Charles Zorbaugh, Columbus. Eight members of the committee hold-over.

Columbus, Oct. 26.—Merritt Green, of Findlay, was received at the Ohio Penitentiary shortly after noon today and begins to serve his sentence.

GUARD INCREASED AT CANTON WORKHOUSE

Canton, Oct. 26.—(UP.)—The police guard about the Canton workhouse was increased late today when it was disclosed that a message had been smuggled to Pat McDermott, center of the investigation into the murder of Don R. Mellett. Mrs. John W. Boyer, wife of the superintendent admitted, police said, that she had taken a message from E. L. Mills, attorney representing Louis Mazer and Ben Rudner, indicted for the Mellett murder, asking McDermott if he wanted an attorney.

Judge A. W. Agler this afternoon denied a motion by Mills to permit him to see McDermott.

BARRERE & NICKERSON
CIRCLEVILLE, O.

I Accepted Your Challenge Mr. Underwood. Where Were You?

I note in a Circleville paper that you issue a challenge to me to meet you and discuss the issues of the Campaign. Why did you send it to a newspaper instead of to me personally?

You whispered the same challenge last Thursday at Logan. I heard the whisper and accepted an invitation to meet with you in your own City, New Lexington, at the Nonpartisan Voters' League meeting. I WAS THERE. WHERE WERE YOU? Every candidate both district and county, both Democratic and Republican was there, and made an address, it was an all day meeting, and YOU WERE NOT THERE.

You issued your challenge through a foreign newspaper instead of to me, personally, in the hope I would not see it. When "I called your bluff" you "backed up" and conveniently absented yourself from a discussion in your own City among your home people.

You say I "did not have the ability" to discuss issues. I readily admit that I am a business man rather than an orator, yet I was a newspaper editor for several years, and received no complaints from my subscribers as to my inability to express myself.

You frankly admit your ability as an orator and statesman but I have the first time yet see, or hear of, any audience being carried away by your oratorical efforts or any record showing your "eminent statesmanship."

You dub as "unfair, untruthful and slanderous" a statement made in the Scioto Gazette on October 6th, 1926, and call it "11th hour propaganda." October 6th was three weeks ago today Where have you been these three weeks, Mr. Underwood, and why do you not deny even now, the statements made then?

You say the "salary grab" was a Republican measure. If so, why did you betray your Democratic Constituency by voting for it? You pose as a Democrat. Do you only vote for the Republican measures that benefit you, personally? Evidently.

Third terms ordinarily are given as a compensation for meritorious service, my third term as County Auditor was. Why don't you tell the people what you have done to entitle you to a third term? They might believe it. Why don't you try?

You pose as an attorney and yet you make the statement that a reappraisement would increase the Auditor's Salary $10,000. Let me inform you as an ignorant lawyer that the Auditor's Salary is based upon the population of the County only, and not upon the tax duplicate. Furthermore, the Constitution of Ohio prohibits any Official in Ohio from receiving an increase in salary while in office. Therefore your satement coming from an attorney classified you as malicious or an ignoramus

I have never favored a reappraisement except as a means of equalizing values, not increasing them. I reduced both Ross County's debt and taxes during the World War. Can you point to any such accomplishment?

I was defeated in the primaries for the Legislature, but it was by a Republican and not by a Democrat.

It was impossible for me to take your statement that I supported you two years ago seriously. I was "for you" then just as I am now.

Why did you wait three weeks to start your "11th hour propaganda" Mr. Underwood? You only amuse me. Do you know any other funny stories.

THE EVILS OF STRONG DRINK

LESSON TEXT—Prov. 23:29-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—At last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning to be Temperate.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Control of the Appetite.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Alcoholic Beverages Hurtful to the Individual and Society.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Light Wine and Beer a Menace.

I. Woes of Those Who Indulge in Wine (vv. 29, 30).

No more graphic description of the evils of the winebibber has ever been given. It portrays in the most impressive manner the miseries that attach to the drunkard's life.

1. The awful pain which causes one to cry out, "Oh!"

Many indeed are the pains which men suffer because of strong drink. Bodily ills innumerable can be traced to its evil influence.

2. The bitter remorse which causes one to cry out, "Alas!"

Many are the expressions of bitter regret which come daily from the lips of the drunkard. Sometimes it is the sorrow of disgrace, loss of manhood and self-respect. Sometimes it is the sorrow of poverty of the individual and his family clothed in rags and half starved. Sometimes it is the sorrow of following a broken-hearted wife to her grave and seeing his children scattered among strangers.

3. Contention, strife and quarreling.

Much of the fighting among men is directly caused by their passions being inflamed by strong drink. The drunken man is always ready for a fight. He takes offense as well as gives offense. He not only has these from without, but he has struggles within. His conscience and his appetite are warring with each other.

4. Babblings and complainings.

The winebibber complains of everything, ill-luck, broken fortune, ruined health, loss of friends, of fate and of God.

5. Wounds without a cause.

These are wounds which might have been avoided from fights in which a sober man would not have engaged and from accidents which are purely the result of intoxication.

6. Redness of eyes.

This has reference to the blood-shot eyes of the tippler which ruins and dims his vision.

All these woes come upon those who tarry long at wine (v. 30).

II. The Attitude Enjoined (v. 31).

Look not at it. Do not put yourself in the way of temptation. The only safe attitude toward strong drink is total abstinence, and the only sure way of total abstinence is not to even look at it.

III. The Drunkard's Bitter End (vv. 32-35).

1. Acute miseries (v. 32). "It biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

Strong drink, like the poison of the serpent, permeates the whole system and ends in the most fatal consequences, the bitterest sufferings and death.

2. The perversion of the moral senses (v. 33).

(1) This excitement causes the eyes to behold strange things. This denotes the fantastic images which are produced on the brain of the drunkard. Even when delirium tremens does not result, there are awful fancies which are beyond the possibility of realization. Since carnal lust always comes with wine drinking, it is no doubt true, as the Authorized Version has it, "Thine eyes shall behold strange women."

(2) "Thine heart shall utter perverse things." His moral sense being perverted, his utterances partake of the same. He tells lies, his words cannot be believed.

3. He is insensible to danger (v. 34).

The drunkard is unsteady. His brain reels to and fro, he is foolhardy even as one who would lie in the top of a ship's mast where there is the greatest danger of falling off.

4. He is insensible to pain (v. 35).

The drunkard is utterly ignorant of what happens to him while under the influence of strong drink. The drunkard has many bruises and wounds for which he cannot account. He did not realize when he received them.

5. His abject bondage (v. 35).

After all his sufferings, sorrow and disappointment he goes on as a bond slave to follow the ways of sin.

6. Hell at last, for no drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

The Rock of Ages

A sailor in a shipwreck was once thrown upon a small rock, and clung to it, in great danger, until the tide went down. "Say, Joe," asked his friends after the rescue, "didn't you shake with fear?" "Yes," replied Joe, "but the rock didn't." Christ is the Rock of Ages.—Sabbath Reading.

A Work of Art and Skill

The work of a fisher (Matt. 4:19) is rather a work of art and skill than of force and violence.—Trench.

Hardy Robbers

Moss-troopers were desperate plunderers and lawless soldiers, secreting themselves on the borders of Scotland. Many severe laws were enacted against them but they were not extirpated until the Sixteenth century.

Water Not Fattening

Water is not fattening, neither does it influence digestion or other bodily processes so as to govern obesity. Prohibition of water is effective only as an indirect means of making a person eat less food. Many people are surprised to learn that the current ideas about water are a mere superstition and that they may drink all the water they please while reducing.

AMUSEMENTS

An old phrase soon destined to come into popularity again is the well known saying, "It's the Old Army Game." Why? That's the title of W. C. Field's first starring picture for Paramount, which arrives at the Metropolitan on Tuesday.

Old-timers will testify that the phrase has nothing to do with the army. Fields himself says it means, "Never give a sucker an even break." And that just about explains it.

Remember the old circus and medicine side-shows that used to arrive in town? There was always a red-faced chap mounted on a platform who called out: "Step up, ladies and gents! See if you can tell under which shell is the pea!" Then he moved the shells around rapidly and you'd guess. Usually wrong.

Well, that's "the old army game."

"The old army game" has been practiced as long as humans have lived. They say prehistoric cavemen used to play it. Definite records show that it had a part in early Chinese history. And the Romans, at the height of their glory, were experts, in "kidding the suckers."

The exact origin of the phrase is a little indefinite. Why the army was brought in is problematical. Some say that it refers to the buck private and his lot. A buck private is popularly, if humorously, supposed to do all the work.

However, the phrase has gone beyond the limits of the army and now refers to any phase if life in which suckers appear. According to many experts, that is in just about every strata of existence.

This humorous side of American life is the basis of W. C. Fields' first picture a characterization he has made famous on the musical comedy stage. Louise Brooks is featured. Edward Sutherland directed.

MRS. DONAHEY ENTERTAINS AT PARISH HOUSE

Three Hundred Ladies and Gentlemen Greet Wife of the Governor.

The reception tendered the first lady in the state, Mrs. A. V. Donahey, at the Parish house Wednesday evening, October 27, was a prounced success.

During the evening about two hundred ladies and some gentlemen called and paid their respects to the wife of the governor.

Mrs. B. W. Young chairman of the Democratic Women's club organization of this county was the hostess and chairman of the reception committee. She was assisted by Mrs. M. H. Lowe, Mrs. G. W. Heffner, Mrs. Guy Heffner Mrs. Harry Gatrel, Mrs. E. S. Neuding, Mrs. E. S. Stephens, Mrs. H. S. Heffner, Mrs. Harry Briggs, Mrs. M. B. Trout, Mrs. I. F. Boggs, Mrs. Walter Marion, Miss Mary McKenzie and County Recorder Mrs. Mary Goff Morris.

The social committee was Mrs. Carl Ritz, Mrs. C. K. Hunsicker, Mrs. E. L. Price, Miss Jemima Dungan, Miss Fannie Rowe, Mrs. Noah Weaver, Miss Florence Hoffman, Miss Emma Yates, Mrs. I. F. Snyder, Mrs. Besse Henderson, Mrs. Taylor McCrady, Mrs. Ella Lindhay, Mrs. Ida Rife, Mrs. George Stofer, Miss Huldah Leist, Miss Mary Wilder, Miss Alma Borror, Miss Anna Shea, Mrs. John Kirwin, Miss Marie Reichelderfer, Mrs. B. K. Clapp and Miss Helen Rowe.

The stage of the Parish house was beautifully decorated with fall flowers.

A musical program was given during the evening. Mrs. J. P. Moffitt and Mrs. Raleigh Heiskell sang. Mrs. C. B. Smith, chairman of the Democratic Women's club of Franklin county, gave a talk and aold all present to vote the Democratic ticket.

Sandwishes and coffee was served.

MUSICAL TREAT.

Music lovers of Circleville have a real treat in store. On November 4, a concert is to be given under the auspices of the Monday club at the Memorial hall. This is not a student recital but a concert given by professionals. The Chillicothe Women's chorus, an organization that has worked together for several years, will sing a number of selections. Mrs. Delores Maxwell, of Chillicothe, together with Mrs. Frank Stevenson, Mr. George Thompson and Mr. Robert Dunkel will sing Lehman's exquisite song cycle "In a Persian Garden." The words for these numbers are taken from the Rubaiyat—Omor Khayyam and the composer has been most fortunate in suiting her airs to the Oriental spirit of the text. The quartet has given this cycle in various cities of southern Ohio. The critics have all spoken of the fine blending of the four voices.

Mrs. Mabel Dunn Hopkins, well known violinist of Columbus, will be an assisting artist who in addition to her own solo numbers will accompany the chorus in the beautiful Games "Fantasy on a Russian Folk-Song." Samuel Richard Gaines has won a national reputation with his songs of which one of the biggest is this "Fantasy." When the Women's chorus sang this number last year in Washington C. H., the Gaines complimented they highly saying he had never heard it done more beautifully.

Due to the kindness of Mrs. Maxwell it is possible to offer tickets for this concert at 75 cents apiece. These tickets are on sale at Wildren's drug store or may be obtained from any member of the Monday club.

Interesting Collection

For twenty years or more Mrs. Harry Sproule of Los Angeles has been collecting picture post cards, some on her own account, but mostly from friends traveling abroad. Her collection is amazing, nearly 30,000 of them, all pasted neatly in books according to country. She has them from all sorts of remote places and can turn up any one of them for reference at a moment's notice. She bemoans the fact that post cards used to be much more interesting and of better quality. She says they are getting shoddier every year now.

Playing Both Ends Against The Middle

CONTINUING PROSPERITY OR INDUSTRIAL CHAOS?

THE CONTRAST

Under a "Competitive Tariff." Wages in Ohio $1.50 to $1.75 for a 9 or 10 hour day. 27 applicants in Cleveland for every position. 300,000 men out of work in Ohio.	Under the Coolidge Tariff. More men employed. Higher Wages. Greater Prosperity for the average man than was ever before attained in any country in the world's history.

DO YOU WISH THE RETURN OF A "COMPETITIVE" TARIFF, SUCH AS BROUGHT THE INTOLERABLE CONDITIONS OF 1913-14, OR A CONTINUANCE OF THE CONDITIONS OF PROSPERITY EXISTING TODAY?

THIS IS THE QUESTION FACING THE VOTERS OF OHIO WHO SELECT A UNITED STATES SENATOR ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2nd.

THE CONTRAST

AS A MEMBER OF THE SENATE:

The Democratic candidate voted 100 times against protection for the American workingman. Only on potash and peanuts, neither of which are produced in Ohio did he ever vote for protection for American labor and American standards of living. His party pledges him now to vote again as he did before, and in his party the caucus rules regardless of personal views

Senator Frank B. Willis, Candidate for re-election, voted every time for the protection of American industry and American standards of life.

He is pledged, both personally and by his party to continue this policy.

Let us not have a repetition of the Conditions when only 40% of the people of Ohio were working or had any chance to work.

THESE ARE THE BIG ISSUES IN THE SENATORIAL FIGHT:

Shall American Industry be protected from the 36 cent per day labor of Europe?

Shall the policies of President Coolidge be Sustained?

SENATOR FRANK B. WILLIS HAS BEEN AND IS A STAUNCH SUPPORTER of the policies of the President, under which the people of the United States have enjoyed for four years a prosperity unparalleled in the world's history. No President can achieve, unless the Congress sustains him. Ohio voted for Coolidge 700,000 strong. Let us now not tie his hands by electing a man who's every vote, judged by his past record, would be cast against the Presidential policies.

Senator Willis has voted three times for taxation reduction. His opponent, despite Ohio's 500,000 vote for Harding, voted "No" on the Harding taxation reduction bill of 1921.

The fight successfully waged by Senator Willis against the "Chicago Water Steal" is one of the greatest in recent Senatorial history, and of the utmost importance to the industrial life of Ohio.

Chairman of a most important Senate Committee, a member of three more big committees, Senator Willis, as recently stated by one of the country's great newspapers, "rightfully takes his place beside such illustrious Republican predecessors as John Sherman, Marcus A. Hanna, Joseph B. Foraker, Theodore E. Burton, and Warren G. Harding."

IF YOU BELIEVE IN OHIO AND THE NATION, IF YOU WISH TO CONTINUE THE ABUNDANT PROSPERITY YOU NOW ENJOY, VOTE AGAINST THE RETURN OF A "COMPETITIVE" TARIFF AND WAGE SCALES BELOW THE AMERICAN STANDARD OF LIVING. VOTE FOR A CONTINUANCE OF GREAT AMERICAN POLICIES BY HELPING TO RE-ELECT FRANK B. WILLIS AS UNITED STATES SENATOR ON NOVEMBER 2nd.

YOU CAN COUNT ON WILLIS!

x HARTMAN THEATER. x
x x x x x x x x

At last "Castles in the Air" has forsaken Chicago, where it ran for 47 weeks at the Olympic theater. With Donald Brian, Roy Copper and Virginia O'Brien at the head of the Chicago organization, this enormous musical comedy success will occupy the Hartman theater for three days beginning Thursday, November 4. Successful as it was in Chicago, "Castles in the Air" with another company, has again scored at the Selwyn theater, New York and now the whole country has extended its arms to the reigning box office triumph. In the local announcement, everybody concerned stresses the immediate success of this show in Columbus last November when it was called "Land of Romance." There were one or two minor defects in the cast at the time, but that was easily remedied and overlooked in the outstanding possessions of a gorgeous show property. Columbus was unanimous in acclaiming the now "Castles in the Air" and there were hundreds of "I told you so's" when the piece shortly afterward set Chicago on its toes. Besides Brian, Cropper and O'Brien, the Chicoga organization booked here includes Walter Law, Genevieve McCormick, John T. Dwyer, Betty Marvin, Dortohy Wilkins, Joseph Granby, Benedict MacQuarie, George A. Weller, John Ehrle, Cecil Butterfield, J. Harry Jenkins and Antionette Mack, all names that have first call from the big casting directors.

Presented by James W. Elliott, who as a producer has flashed high across the theatrical horizon, "Castles in the Air" is an expert combination and blend of dramatics, song and dance, made beautiful with costumes and scenery of a variety and richness heretofore seen only in the bigger revues. A great organization of 150 singers, dancers and comi c folk occupies the stage. The music written by Percy Wenrick carries all the delicacy and charm that one always associotes with his works, which in this case tre "Lantern of Love," "Baby" "First Kiss," "Land of Romance" and "Latavia." Highly original and bizarre dancing effects devised by John Boyle and Julian Mitchell are afforded with a chorus of sixty or more.

GOV. LOWDEN BOOSTS COOPER FOR GOVRNOR

The following letters from Ex-governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, to Hon. F. H. Downing of Lima, in which he speaks very highly of Myers Y. Cooper, the Republican candidate for governor an incidentally of the tariff is very complimentary. The letter follows:

"I have been getting good reports from Ohio lately indicating the election of the Honorable Myers Y. Cooper and in fact the entire Republican ticket.

"This is indeed good news. I have known Mr. Cooper well for some time and have come to have a very high opinion both of his abilities and character. He has great executive capacity, as everyone knows. He has initiative in a large degree and in my judgment would make an ideal chief executive of your great state. His long connection with county fair officials has fairly acquainted him with the needs of agriculture. He understands the vital importance of agriculture in the life of the nation, and he would render, as I believe, great service to agriculture if placed in the governor's chair.

"The farmer has indeed been thru difficult times. The period of re-construction following the war has borne hardest upon him. The Democratic remedy, however, for this condition, namely, a Democratis tariff, would only make things worse in my opinion. There never was a time in the history of American agriculture when the American farmer needed protective tariff as he needs it now. It is true that the duties levied upon imports of agricultural products are not always effective at present, and we must find some way to make them effective. This, in my opinion, can be better worked out by the Republican party than by the Democratic party. However, to return to a Democratic tariff would be disastrous in the extreme. I sincerely hope, therefore, that Mr. Cooper and the entire Republican ticket will be overwhelmingly successful on November 2."

MARINE BAND HAS HAD LONG CAREER

The United States Marine band is America's oldest and best known musical organization of this type, says the National Republic. In 1798 President John Adams signed a bill putting the Marine corps on a permanent basis. A fife and drum corps was then authorized, and this became the Marine band, so that it has a history of 127 years. The band gave its first open-air concert in Washington in 1800.

It first played at the White House when President Adams received on New Year's day, 1801. The band has played at all inaugural balls and all important White House functions since. It has played at all Presidential funerals from that of Taylor to that of Harding, and was present when Lincoln made his Gettysburg address. It played for Lafayette when he toured the United States and for Edward VII when he journeyed through America as prince of Wales; it also played for his grandson, the present prince.

The most famous leader of the Marine band was John Philip Sousa, and some of his most famous compositions were first played by the band under his leadership.

Scientists Can't Tell Why Cells "Wear Out"

It is bacilli which are responsible for almost all untimely snuffing out of human life. Scarcely any one dies from senile decay. There is really no such fatal disease as "old age." No one knows why a man wears out. Scientists have yet to probe to its source the dark mystery of the disease of the cells which prevents them, after a certain period of years—varying with individuals—from renewing themselves.

Sir Ernest Rutherford, Doctor Harrison, Doctor Doppler, the Viennese surgeon, and Dr. Alexis Carrel, the wizard French surgeon who is head of the great Rockefeller institute of America, lead the group of international scientists who are tirelessly striving to penetrate this greatest of all secrets—the mystery of the death of the cells.—London Tit-Bits.

Chillicothe, Ohio:

I have repeatedly ask you to meet me and debate my Record in Congress. Do this or stop your newspaper propaganda and 11th hour lies. Name the time, date and city in the District. I will be there.

Mell G. Underwood,
Member of Congress
11th District, Ohio.

The evening of October 31, is celebrated in many countries, including the good old U. S. A., as Hallowe'en, the evening preceding All Saints' Day, in merrymaking with playful ceremonies and charms to discover future husbands or wives.

We would appreciate it very much if our young folks, would confine their joy-making to the proper evening, and refrain from any pranks that are in violation of our city ordinances, such as marking windows with soap, throwing missiles at doors that are apt to break glass, removing property from one place to another, destruction of fences, shutters, flower pots, etc. Such violators, if apprehended, will be prosecuted. Parents can assist our department very much by cautioning their children in what can and cannot be done legally. We want all to enjoy the occasion but in the right spirit.

Respectfully,
W. H. WARNER, Chief of Police.
GEO. M. FITZPATRICK, Mayor.

Original Bailiffs

Bailiff is a name which was introduced into England in the time of William I, and came to be applied to various officials representing or acting for the king. The sheriff was the king's bailiff, whose business it was to preserve the rights of the king within his "bailiwick" or county.

Got Back at Critic

An actor, who had been persistently ridiculed by a newspaper dramatic critic, met the critic at a social function. "Do you read my criticisms?" the writer ventured to ask. "Yes," replied the actor. "You see I am a late riser, and when I buy my paper yours is usually the one left on the news stand."

VOTERS GRASP THIS OPPORTUNITY

GIVE THE ELEVENTH DISTRICT PERSONAL REPRESENTATION IN CONGRESS

Walter S. Barrett

For

ELEVENTH OHIO DISTRICT

You'll Be Personally Represented In Congress

Ross County has had Republican representation but two years out of forty at the Nation's Capitol. Since all five counties in the eleventh district unanimously endorsed Mr. Barrett, it shows that the consensus of opinion throughout the district is that it is now Ross County's turn to furnish a congressman. It is an opportunity to have your own personal representation in Congress. Mr. Barrett can ask universal support from his district because his previous record shows he has never been bitterly partisan.

Barrett Born On Farm

Born on a farm, Sept. 19, 1878, Mr. Barrett has been closely identified with farming interests ever since. As secretary of the Ross Co. Agricultural Association he managed the fairs so successfully that a nice surplus was piled up in the bank. As secretary of the Farmer's Fall Festival, Chillicothe, he made it known throughout the state as the finest festival of its kind. Owning a large canvas tent, Mr. Barrett has donated its use to all granges and churches throughout the county free of charge, so that their socials and homecomings might be given a better setting without additional expense.

Barrett Member Union

Labor finds a staunch friend in Mr. Barrett who belongs to local union No. 6 and who was a delegate to the Central Labor Union. Left an orphan at 14, he went to work to support his brothers, as a printer's devil, from which position he rose rapidly to editorship of the Greenfield Daily News. He knows labor problems from personal experience as a mechanic in the B. & O. shops. Later he built up a prosperous business selling automobiles.

Barrett Known As Tax Expert

As an expert on laws of taxation and fiscal government, Mr. Barrett earned statewide fame and he was honored with the presidency of the Ohio Auditors' Association. He organized and wrote the constitution of the Ohio Tax Association. His efficiency and popularity were demonstrated by his election as County Auditor three times in succession, the third time by a majority nearly double that of his preceeding election. He reduced the tax rate and county indebtedness while auditor during and following the period of the World War when the costs of government soared to unheard of heights.

Barrett Experienced In Legislative Work

As secretary of the Ross County Memorial Association, Mr. Barrett secured a $ 70,000 appropriation from the state to assist in building the armory at Chillicothe. The matter had been dormant for 12 years but 12 months after Mr. Barrett was made secretary, the work of laying the brick has begun. Mr. Barrett has had thorough experience in every type of legislative work, so that he goes to Congress as well equipped to serve his constituency as the ordinary candidate after his first term.

Barrett Successful Business Man

Through his own resources Mr. Barrett built up his automobile business until he is now recognized as one of the most progressive auto dealers in all Ohio. He served as president of the Ross County Auto Dealers' Association for a number of years.

Barrett Church and Lodge Man

Mr. Barrett is a church man, veteran of the Spanish American War, and belongs to the Masons, Elks, Moose and Maccabees.

Barrett Keeps His Promise

His opponent, Mell G. Underwood, himself created the third term issue in the campaign, when he advocated but two terms for the Congressman from this district. In view of the fact that Mr. Underwood promised to retire if given two terms in Congress and has broken this promise by seeking a third term, the voters are under no obligation to support him. This is an added reason why universal support should be given Mr. Barrett by the voters to make him their personal representative at Washington.

TO MAKE A STATE PARK

Ten Acdes of Ground Surrounding Seip Mound To Be Utilized In Restoration Work.

The Great Seip mound, largest in the world of the Hopewell culture of prehistoric peoples, located two miles east of Bainbridge, is to be made into a state park, according to Sunday's Ohio State Journal.

Officials of the Ohio Archaeological and Historical Society under whose direction excavations have been carried on there have plans of preserving earthworks as soon as they are uncovered.

The Seip group of mounds is the largest of the Hopewell culture of prehistoric people and the central mound near Bainbridge is the largest of the group. Under plans for the state park, the mound will be reconstructed and present the same appearance as it did when the savages carried their dead there. A nucleus of ten acres of adjoining ground will be the start.

Dark Types of Wheat Are Best

Hard, Vitreous Kernels Have Superior Qualities for Bread.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

That hard, vitreous kernels of wheat have superior qualities for bread making when compared with the starchy grains of the same class of wheat is indicated in a series of tests recently made by J. H. Shollenberger and D. A. Coleman of the Department of Agriculture. Wheats of certain classes containing a high percentage of such kernels usually commands a premium over the price paid for the yellower and more starchy appearing wheats of the same class, because it is believed generally that the hard, vitreous kernels have superior bread-making qualities. This belief was recognized when the official United States grain standards were promulgated and the percentage of hard and vitreous kernels was taken as the basis for establishing subclasses for the hard red spring, hard red winter, durum, and white wheat classes.

Types of Kernels.

To establish definitely what relationship exists between the kernel texture and such important factors as test weight per bushel, flour yield, loaf volume of bread, water absorbing capacity of flour, and protein content, special studies were undertaken. Samples of hard red spring, hard red winter and durum wheats were separated into three types of kernels: dark, hard, vitreous, or amber; spotted or mottled; and yellow or starchy. Each was milled and tested for the various qualities.

The results showed that of the three types of kernel texture compared, the dark type, for each class of wheat, was consistently highest in specific gravity, usually highest in flour yield and color of loaf, decidedly superior in water absorption, weight of loaf and crude protein content, and slightly higher in ash, crude fiber, and acidity. In the hard red spring and hard red winter wheats, but not in the durum, the dark type of kernel was also slightly highest in loaf volume and texture of bread.

Starchy Type Superior.

The starchy kernel type was slightly superior in average fat content of wheat and in bran yield for all three classes of wheat tested, and in the durum wheat samples produced bread of the greatest volume and of best texture. In almost all the important milling and bread quality factors the starchy kernels, except of the durum wheat, were inferior to the other types.

Judged from the standpoint of these averages, it would appear that the dark kernels are decidedly superior to the other types of kernels and that the starchy kernels are just as decidedly inferior. Complete details concerning the tests and results are given in Department Bulletin No. 1429-D, "Relation of Kernel Texture to the Physical Characteristics, Milling and Baking Qualities, and Chemical Composition of Wheat," copies of which may be obtained, as long as the supply lasts, by writing the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Swine Tuberculosis Not Considered as Serious

Owing to the comparatively short life of swine the spread of tuberculosis from hog to hog is not common, because the disease, being slow in its development, often fails to cause the breaking down of the affected tissues before the animal is slaughtered, writes Dr. L. Van Es in Capper's Farmer. Only in older tuberculous swine, such as breeding animals, may there be bacilli given off by the mouth or body discharges. More commonly is the infection acquired from other animals and more particularly from affected cattle and poultry. The germs scattered about in yards by the droppings of tuberculous animals are readily taken up by swine in the pursuit of food. The bacilli contained in the various types of slaughter house offal, often fed to swine, can bring about their infection. Milk and dairy products derived from tuberculous cows always have played an important part in the transmission of the disease to swine. Those are the principal facts that must be given consideration in the protection of swine against tuberculosis.

Barnyard Manure Useful to Maintain Fertility.

In maintaining the fertility of garden soil, barnyard manure should be used very liberally. Application at the rate of 20 to 30 tons to the acre each year is not too much. Well-rotted manure is to be preferred to fresh manure because its fertility is more readily available to the plants and it can be worked into the soil with greater ease. The manure should be applied in the fall of the year before plowing. When one does not choose to raise a second crop after an early one, a cover crop may be grown and plowed under in the fall. This will conserve the moisture and fertility of the soil, increase the humus content and add nitrogen if one of the legumes is used. It will seldom be necessary to use commercial fertilizers in South Dakota. But where they are necesary acid phosphate and nitrate of soda will be found most beneficial. From 200 to 400 pounds are applied to the acre each year.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Charles T. Giimore, Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mrs. Allan Newmeyer, Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Hulse Hayes gave a luncheon at Granville today, honoring Mrs. Frederick Gunning, of Pasadena, California.

October, in its light blue haze with its mantel changed by Jack Frost's artist's brush into a coat of the many colors of the brown, the yellow and the red, rivals rare June, as a month of weddings. It was a very lovely autumn marriage, that of Miss Helen Edwards Closson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Closson to Mr. Charles Richard Blundell, of Vancouver, Canada, which was celebrated by the Rev. E. K. Johnson, visiting superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the home of the bride's parents, on North Pickaway estreet, Wednesday afternoon, October 27, at 5:45 o'clock. The house was festive in the fall flowers, and, in the carrying out of the color scheme, pink and white. Miss Anna Schleyer was at the piano and Mrs. Frank Kline sang, "Just Like the Dawn" and "At Dawning." To the Mendelsshon march, the bridal procession moved down the stairway across the front parlor. Miss Dorothy Closson was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Catharine Goeller was the bridesmaid. The attendants were dressed exactly alike. Their frocks were of peach taffeta, with rather narrow rose and peach velvet ribbon caught at the right shoulder, ending in a rosette to the left of the short waist line of the bodice. The skirts were made circular and full falling over a band of gold cloth at the hem. Their slippers were brocaded gold and their flowers, butterfly roses in a corsage bouquet. Mr. Raymond Young, of Cleveland, was best man to the groom.

The bride, who was with her father, was most attractive in a flesh colored georgette, silver trimmings with the brocaded silver slippers. A silver crown shaped fillet adorned her soft hair. She wore a corsage of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Before the mantel in the front parlor, which was decorated with Columbia roses, steeped in green and flanked with tall baskets holding stately chrysanthemums, they were married. Pink almond paper cups and a large pink and white cake which seemed so in consonance, with the debutante bride decorated her table. On either side of the cake was a big bunch of Columbia roses. These roses ornamented the other tables set in the big parlors and were distributed as favors to the fifty guests at the wedding dinner. Around the newly weds sat the Miss Dorothy Closson, Mr. Raymond Young, Miss Catharine Goeller, Mr. Edward Blundell, Mr. Fred Megerth, Miss Frances Downs, Mr. Bowers, Miss Sarah Haswell, Mr. Willis Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kline, Miss Frances Boecher Mr. Robert Perry.

Miss Closson was graduated from the Circleville high school after which she attended the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. It was there that she met Mr. Blundell, who is a graduate of Oberlin college. The young couple will reside at Akron, where Mr. Blundell is manager of the Aluminum Plate company.

Out of town guests were Mr. Raymond Young, Cleveland; Mr. Fred Megerth, Lakewood; Mr. Robert Perry Arkon; Miss Frances Bocher, Hallsville; Mr. Willis Warner, Portsmouth; Mr. Wallace Bowers, Columbus; Miss Frances Downs, Columbus; Mrs. Kate Downs, Columbus; Dorothy Closson, Cincinnati; Catharine Goeller, New Lexington; Sarah Haswell, Columbus; Mrs. Bart Deming, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hale Columbus; Rev. and Mrs. E. New Whole Wheat Bread Scores Hit With Local Folks

A new whole wheat bread, declared to be better than anything else of the sort ever put on the market is being manufactured and sold by The Fritz Steam Bakery. It is made from the famous Enright flour, the Fritz Bakery having the exclusive rights to the making and selling of bread produced from it.

"The reason," The Fritz Steam Bakery says "that this new bread is proving so popular is due to the fact that it is made from a very superior grade of flour. Not only is it popular for its tasty flavor, but many physicians consider it of a very real value as a health food. Doctors are recommending it for those who suffer from stomach trouble. Everybody who has tested of it so far has been well satisfied." Price ten cents a loaf.

Lesson for October 31

THE EVILS OF STRONG DRINK

LESSON TEXT—Prov. 23:29-35.

GOLDEN TEXT—At last it biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning to be Temperate.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Control of the Appetite.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Alcoholic Beverages Hurtful to the Individual and Society.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Light Wine and Beer a Menace.

I. Woes of Those Who Indulge in Wine (vv. 29, 30).

No more graphic description of the evils of the winebibber has ever been given. It portrays in the most impressive manner the miseries that attach to the drunkard's life.

1. The awful pain which causes one to cry out, "Oh!"

Many indeed are the pains which men suffer because of strong drink. Bodily ills innumerable can be traced to its evil influence.

2. The bitter remorse which causes one to cry out, "Alas!"

Many are the expressions of bitter regret which come daily from the lips of the drunkard. Sometimes it is the sorrow of disgrace, loss of manhood and self-respect. Sometimes it is the sorrow of poverty of the individual and his family clothed in rags and half starved. Sometimes it is the sorrow of following a broken-hearted wife to her grave and seeing his children scattered among strangers.

3. Contention, strife and quarreling.

Much of the fighting among men is directly caused by their passions being inflamed by strong drink. The drunken man is always ready for a fight. He takes offense as well as gives offense. He not only has these from without, but he has struggles within. His conscience and his appetite are warring with each other.

4. Babblings and complainings.

The winebibber complains of everything, ill-luck, broken fortune, ruined health, loss of friends, of fate and of God.

5. Wounds without a cause.

These are wounds which might have been avoided from fights in which a sober man would not have engaged and from accidents which are purely the result of intoxication.

6. Redness of eyes.

This has reference to the blood-shot eyes of the tippler which ruins and dims his vision.

All these woes come upon those who tarry long at wine (v. 30).

II. The Attitude Enjoined (v. 31).

Look not at it. Do not put yourself in the way of temptation. The only safe attitude toward strong drink is total abstinence, and the only sure way of total abstinence is not to even look at it.

III. The Drunkard's Bitter End (vv. 32-35).

1. Acute miseries (v. 32). "It biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

Strong drink, like the poison of the serpent, permeates the whole system and ends in the most fatal consequences, the bitterest sufferings and death.

2. The perversion of the moral senses (v. 33).

(1) This excitement causes the eyes to behold strange things. This denotes the fantastic images which are produced on the brain of the drunkard. Even when delirium tremens does not result, there are awful fancies which are beyond the possibility of realization. Since carnal lust always comes with wine drinking, it is no doubt true, as the Authorized Version has it, "Thine eyes shall behold strange women."

(2) "Thine heart shall utter perverse things." His moral sense being perverted, his utterances partake of the same. He tells lies, his words cannot be believed.

3. He is insensible to danger (v. 34).

The drunkard is unsteady. His brain reels to and fro, he is foolhardy even as one who would lie in the top of a ship's mast where there is the greatest danger of falling off.

4. He is insensible to pain (v. 35).

The drunkard is utterly ignorant of what happens to him while under the influence of strong drink. The drunkard has many bruises and wounds for which he cannot account. He did not realize when he received them.

5. His abject bondage (v. 35).

After all his sufferings, sorrow and disappointment he goes on as a bond slave to follow the ways of sin.

6. Hell at last, for no drunkard shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven (I Cor. 6:10).

The Rock of Ages

A sailor in a shipwreck was once thrown upon a small rock, and clung to it, in great danger, until the tide went down. "Say, Joe," asked his friends after the rescue, "didn't you shake with fear?" "Yes," replied Joe, "but the rock didn't." Christ is the Rock of Ages.—Sabbath Reading.

A Work of Art and Skill

The work of a fisher (Matt. 4:19) is rather a work of art and skill than of force and violence.—Trench.

Hardy Robbers

Moss-troopers were desperate plunderers and lawless soldiers, secreting themselves on the borders of Scotland. Many severe laws were enacted against them but they were not extirpated until the Sixteenth century.

Talking of Laziness

"I have a son of nineteen who is too lazy to shiver when he's cold," a man told the Lambeth (Eng.) Magistrate.

Don't put off having those fall and winter garments cleaned; you may need them.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Mrs. Charles T. Giimore, Mrs. Frank Bennett, Mrs. Allan Newmeyer, Mrs. Harry Jackson, Mrs. Hulse Hayes gave a luncheon at Granville today, honoring Mrs. Frederick Gunning, of Pasadena, California.

October, in its light blue haze with its mantel changed by Jack Frost's artist's brush into a coat of the many colors of the brown, the yellow and the red, rivals rare June, as a month of weddings. It was a very lovely autumn marriage, that of Miss Helen Edwards Closson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Closson to Mr. Charles Richard Blundell, of Vancouver, Canada, which was celebrated by the Rev. E. K. Johnson, visiting superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, at the home of the bride's parents, on North Pickaway estreet, Wednesday afternoon, October 27, at 5:45 o'clock. The house was festive in the fall flowers, and, in the carrying out of the color scheme, pink and white. Miss Anna Schleyer was at the piano and Mrs. Frank Kline sang, "Just Like the Dawn" and "At Dawning." To the Mendelsshon march, the bridal procession moved down the stairway across the front parlor. Miss Dorothy Closson was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Catharine Goeller was the bridesmaid. The attendants were dressed exactly alike. Their frocks were of peach taffeta, with rather narrow rose and peach velvet ribbon caught at the right shoulder, ending in a rosette to the left of the short waist line of the bodice. The skirts were made circular and full falling over a band of gold cloth at the hem. Their slippers were brocaded gold and their flowers, butterfly roses in a corsage bouquet. Mr. Raymond Young, of Cleveland, was best man to the groom.

The bride, who was with her father, was most attractive in a flesh colored georgette, silver trimmings with the brocaded silver slippers. A silver crown shaped fillet adorned her soft hair. She wore a corsage of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Before the mantel in the front parlor, which was decorated with Columbia roses, steeped in green and flanked with tall baskets holding stately chrysanthemums, they were married. Pink almond paper cups and a large pink and white cake which seemed so in consonance, with the debutante bride decorated her table. On either side of the cake was a big bunch of Columbia roses. These roses ornamented the other tables set in the big parlors and were distributed as favors to the fifty guests at the wedding dinner. Around the newly weds sat the Miss Dorothy Closson, Mr. Raymond Young, Miss Catharine Goeller, Mr. Edward Blundell, Mr. Fred Megerth, Miss Frances Downs, Mr. Bowers, Miss Sarah Haswell, Mr. Willis Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kline, Miss Frances Boecher Mr. Robert Perry.

Miss Closson was graduated from the Circleville high school after which she attended the Oberlin Conservatory of Music. It was there that she met Mr. Blundell, who is a graduate of Oberlin college. The young couple will reside at Akron, where Mr. Blundell is manager of the Aluminum Plate company.

Out of town guests were Mr. Raymond Young, Cleveland; Mr. Fred Megerth, Lakewood; Mr. Robert Perry Arkon; Miss Frances Bocher, Hallsville; Mr. Willis Warner, Portsmouth; Mr. Wallace Bowers, Columbus; Miss Frances Downs, Columbus; Mrs. Kate Downs, Columbus; Dorothy Closson, Cincinnati; Catharine Goeller, New Lexington; Sarah Haswell, Columbus; Mrs. Bart Deming, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Hale Columbus; Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Johnson, Newark; Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Edwards and son, Joseph, , Mrs. J. H. Edwards Leipsic; Miss Mary Margaret Edwards, Delaware; Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Palmer and son, Paul, Contenental, Ohio; Miss Martha Wilder, Columbus.

New Whole Wheat Bread Scores Hit With Local Folks

A new whole wheat bread, declared to be better than anything else of the sort ever put on the market is being manufactured and sold by The Fritz Steam Bakery. It is made from the famous Enright flour, the Fritz Bakery having the exclusive rights to the making and selling of bread produced from it.

"The reason," The Fritz Steam Bakery says "that this new bread is proving so popular is due to the fact that it is made from a very superior grade of flour. Not only is it popular for its tasty flavor, but many physicians consider it of a very real value as a health food. Doctors are recommending it for those who suffer from stomach trouble. Everybody who has tested of it so far has been well satisfied." Price ten cents a loaf.
